Progress of the Lowell Water and Light Company's

NEW LINE TO GRAND RAPIDS—PUBLIC

Interest in Long Distance Transmission.

ACTIVITY OF THE VILLAGE LIGHTING

Committee. Expert Information on Cost.

INTERESTING EXPERIMENT.

The following article from the Monday issue of the Grand Rapids Democrat will be read with interest by Lowell people:

The Lowell Water and Light Company has nearly completed the construction of its lines from its electric plant on Flat river to this city, and in a short time will be ready to switch on the power equal to that of 800 horses, providing the scheme proves feasible. The plant is one mile north of Lowell and about twenty-one miles from this city. Since the first use of electricity, as a motive power, it has never been demonstrated that the current can be conveyed and retain its force so long a distance. This practical test, however, will soon be made here, and the eyes of the electrical world are expected to turn this way and watch closely the result of the experiment.

Along the winding course of Flat river are many heavy falls, which, if this attempt proves successful, will be utilized to generate power for distribution among other near-by cities. The full capacity of the fall now in use by the company is 1,500 horse power. To obtain the full capacity of this particular fall would require the expenditure of nearly $200,000. The average price obtained per horse power is $120 per annum, so that if the entire 1,500 horse power was used, the income on the investment would be $170,000 annually, while the cost of generating the power would be nominal. The same company owns another waterfall on Flat river, and both are within two miles of Lowell. The capacity of the second fall is 800 horse power, and whether this will be developed, or the full capacity of the first one, depends on the success attending the present venture. Flat river is fed by nearly 100 lakes and the volume of water is not affected to any extent by dry or wet seasons, which makes it better adapted, it is claimed, to the use proposed, than any other river in the state.

"Our object," said a member of the company yesterday, "is to supply small concerns—those using from three to fifteen horse power. Such plants cannot afford an engine and by getting their power in this way, they pay for just exactly what they use. We have no doubt of the feasibility of the scheme; we know we can generate the power, and we know it will follow the wires. There will be some loss of course, but it will not be very great. It is not our intention to make any cut in rates; we are going into this for business and propose to make a little money. We expect to be ready to make connections with Grand Rapids factories before the end of this year. No, we have not entered into any contracts with local parties yet; we will make none until we are ready for business."

THE LIGHTING PLANT.

The committee appointed by the common council at its last meeting to obtain estimates of the cost of a lighting plant at the site procured by the committee on options, has been actively engaged in its work this week. Experts in the various departments of work and supplies have been in consultation with the committee, and the members of the same are confident that the cost will not exceed the limit made by the village charter for bonding purposes.

If such proves to be the case, the tax-payers will have an opportunity of voting on the question of bonding the village for the purpose of building a municipal plant.

If the final estimate of cost proves favorable, we believe the people can make no mistake in voting for a public plant.

VanBennett and Huckins, prohibition orator and singer, are coming to Grand Rapids Tuesday, Dec. 3, and will hold a general rally in the Young Men's Christian association hall at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and 7:30 in the evening. These gentlemen have spoken and sung in many of the states of the union and are noted temperance workers. Everybody is welcome.

Mail Carrier McDonald of Ionia, though in a dazed condition, told the story of how he was slugged last week Tuesday evening. He said he was followed by two tramps, who, in a lonely place at the corner of Third and Washington streets, demanded his key to the mail box, saying, "Give us that key and we won't harm you." He refused and they slugged him from both sides. He went down and as he fell he cried for help, and his assailants ran away. When asked what they struck him with he said he thought it was an ax. He has given a description of two suspicious looking characters who were seen by other parties the same evening, and if possible they will be apprehended.

An exchange is fair in its criticism when it says that some people are so anxious to avoid paying the home merchant a legitimate margin that they believe any fairy tale told them by slick tongued frauds who are entire strangers to them. Ninety-nine out of a hundred of these "soft snaps" offered by these fellows are swindles. The best plan is to patronize your home merchants. They help pay the taxes and are citizens among us. They are responsible for the goods they sell, and can be found at any time should anything be wrong or the goods not as represented.

Our good friend, Hon. A. S. White of Grand Rapids, was married at Charlotte, Nov. 21, to Elmina Cook Morman and departed for a trip through the South. The "At Home" cards bear date January 1, '96. We are rather surprised at this move of Mr. White's. We knew his heart was as big as bushel basket but supposed he must be heart-whole. How ever, we congratulate him and his wish them all the happiness vouchsafed to good and generous souls.

The three day's gathering of the Modern Woodman of Michigan closed at Grand Rapids Friday with the election of officers. The officers elected are as follows: President, D. C. Sharrow, Grand Rapids; vice-president, W. O. Stewart, Grand Rapids; secretary, F. A. Bardeen, Otsego; treasurer, D. C. Feldt, Reed City.

An important $20,000 damage suit has been taken up in the Circuit Court in Ionia, the case being that of Lucy L. Osborn vs. the Detroit Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway Company. Some time ago Mrs. Grover and Mrs. Osborn of Pawamo, Ionia county, were driven home from Ionia, and when crossing the Detroit Grand Haven & Milwaukee track near Muir they were struck by a train, and Mrs. Grover was killed, Mrs. Osborn narrowly escaped a like fate.

The case of Osborn vs. Detroit Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railroad Company was on trial in the Circuit Court Wednesday. Judge Davis instructed the jury to give a verdict in favor of the defendant, the railroad company, on the grounds of contributory negligence. Mrs. Osborn and Mrs. Grover, two Pawamo ladies, were returning from Ionia one evening last June when they were struck by a train just east of Muir. Mrs. Grover was killed and the complainant, Mrs. Osborn, seriously injured.

Mary G. Tiffany of Cannon township has filed a bill of complaint in the Circuit court against her son, Alfred, alleging breach of contract. The farm was deeded to the son last March subject to good care for life, and with other provisions, which contract is alleged to have been broken, so the deed is asked to be annulled.

J. C. Roth and John Danahoe were in Grand Rapids Monday.

A Talk about

CHRISTMAS GIFTS.

Merry Christmas is almost here again and that old, old "What shall I get for this one, that one and the other?" comes up for consideration once more. Presents must be made to Mothers, Fathers, Wives, Husbands, Children, Sweethearts and Dear Friends.

What Shall They Be?

Some silly trinket? Some senseless toy, to be broken or destroyed and tossed and tossed away in an hour? Is there not too much good money wasted this way year after year? Are these the times to squander wealth on baubles?

It is pleasing to note the growing determination of good people everywhere to buy for their Holiday Remembrances something

Useful or Ornamental, or Both!

Something that will last for years or a lifetime as a constant reminder of the donor's good sense?

We have endeavored to supply our store with such a Variety of beautiful and useful Presents

as will meet the requirements of all ages sexes and conditions of life. Prices lower than similar goods were ever before sold in Lowell, and goods guaranteed as represented. Yours, anxious to please,

A. W. WEEKES.

How to Save Money:

We do not pretend to know all the different ways, but one thing sure, the best way is to buy GOOD GOODS when you buy anything. The man who always buys cheap goods will soon become HARD UP if he isn't already. We aim to purchase as good goods in our line as the markets of the United States afford, and we certainly offer them to you on as small a margin as men possibly can and live.

Again we want to call your attention to the fact that we are the only people in Lowell that handle a Rubber Boot or Shoe stamped and can show you a list of names of men who say that they have worn them all of one winter some of them two winters and that they were water proof at the end of the season. Thanking you for past favors and wishing a continuance of the same, we remain yours truly,

The Old Reliable Shoe House,
A. J. HOWK & SON.

Ionia is being canvassed by a smooth talking individual who represents himself as the "agent" of a "general supply" house in Chicago, which is engaged in the philanthropic scheme of selling goods to customers at one-half usual retail cost. To enable one to secure these unequalled bargains he must first secure from the agent a "membership," which costs only $3.75 in cash. The "members" are then given a catalog from which they select the goods. Among the many articles listed is granulated sugar, and the catalog shows that 40 pounds will be sold for $1.00. In order to get these prices, though, one must order not less than $15 worth at one time, and send money in advance. It hardly seems as if any man with common sense would believe such stuff, when it is common knowledge that the grocer's profit on sugar will not average half a cent a pound. Better pay your cash to home merchants and kick the agent out of the house.—[Ionia Standard.]
