YOUR WASHINGTON REVIEW

Within the last few weeks the British Labor Party really showed its true attitude on an international issue that is vitally important to us all. The labor party's rejection of the Schumann Plan for the integration of the coal and steel industries of France, Germany and other European nations is a serious blow in our all-out fight against the spread of Communism.

I was mighty glad to see the strongly worded condemnation of the Labor Party stand by Mr. Paul Hoffman, head of the European Recovery program. Our state department should be just as forceful in telling the British, "Either cooperate with your friends and allies to the maximum, or don't expect any further financial aid from the United States."

The apologists are saying, "Oh, that decision by the British Labor Party executive doesn't mean much." The apologists are 100% wrong. England at the moment is controlled by Prime Minister Attlee and the members of the Labor party. If the labor party bosses say the party is against economic cooperation with France, Germany and the rest of western Europe, then the British is also opposed to such joint action.

The United States in the last few years has bent over backwards to work with free democratic nations throughout the world, including England. The American people have assumed great financial burdens since the last war so that Europe could get back on its feet. However, the time has come when England should either get on our team and pull with the rest or get off and make its own way without further financial aid from the United States.

This past week while the House marked time to let the Senate catch up, I flew home for a few days. Along with 2,500 others I spent most of one day at Elton Smith's farm where the first annual Kent County Grass Day program was held. Those who couldn't attend the demonstrations missed a very worthwhile show. Congratulations to those who made the program a bang-up success. Hope we have more in the future.

The middlewest, but principally Michigan, Ohio and Illinois, are mighty dependent on our manufacturing plants for our continued prosperity. For example—if Michigan didn't have its automobile industry the State would be in tough shape. The automobile depends on an adequate supply of good but cheap iron ore. We now get most of our ore from Minnesota but that supply is limited—20 years the experts say. When that is gone, iron ore must come from either Labrador or South America. Unless the St. Lawrence Waterway is constructed the Labrador ore will not be available at reasonable rates in Michigan. This means our automobile plants and other steel fabricators will have to move elsewhere.

The south, particularly Alabama, wants them and with their cheap water transportation, Michigan will be in trouble. Before people say No to the St. Lawrence, let's look ahead.

Just a word of appreciation for those who helped in circulating and signing my nomination petitions. The response was swell and I want to thank everyone for the fine cooperation.

Last week's visitors—Mr. and Mrs. Ransom C. Chamberlain, Geo. Boucher, Morris Turnwell and family, Carl Morrissey and Paul Jr., and Robert Davenport and son Bob, all of Grand Rapids; Willard A. DePree of Zeeland and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crawford and sons from Holland.

The girls' teams of the Rainbow League show a great improvement over last year, both in fielding and batting. Standings for the first round of play are as follows:

East Paris, 3 wins, 1 loss; Snow 3 wins, 1 loss; Bowne, 2 wins, 1 loss; Lowell, 1 win, 3 losses; Alto 1 win, 3 losses. Schedule of games for the second round of play is as follows:

June 28, East Paris at Snow; Lowell at Alto. July 3, Snow at Bowne; Alto at East Paris. July 10, Bowne at Lowell; Alto at Snow. July 12, Lowell at East Paris; Bowne at Alto. July 17, Snow at Lowell; East Paris at Bowne.

The secretary reported that gifts had been sent to Mrs. Grover Burtick and Mrs. Jack Bityendyk during their stay in the hospital. Meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Harold Butrick in the fall.

Brady Motors Play Moose Here Friday

This week Friday the Brady Motors of the Michigan Football league will come to town. This is one of the fastest and most colorful teams to ever play in Lowell. The Brady outfit boasts of one of the finest pitchers in the country in Hall. This game should be well worth seeing and a record attendance is anticipated.

Win Two in Row
The Lowell Moose added two more wins to their victory string when they defeated Greenville by a 9 to 3 margin at Recreation Park last week.

The Moose took the measure of the Grand Rapids American Legion by a 20 to 3 score at Recreation Park Monday night behind the two-hit pitching performance of Seelye.

The highly publicized game between the Moose and the Rockford Wolverines at the Rockford Homecoming was rained off at the end of three complete innings with the score tied at three all.

Busy Schedule Next Week
The Moose leads face a busy schedule next week when they play host to the West Leonard Merchants at Recreation Park Monday night. Tuesday, July 4, the Moose will play at Zeeland at ten o'clock in the morning. Friday night the Holland Moose will come to Lowell.

Enjoy the Fourth, Be Alive on the Fifth

Over Decoration Day week-end this year, 33 people were killed and countless hundreds were injured on Michigan highways. Figures show that the death toll is up all over the nation. More cars, more driving, more speedsters. Plan to do your driving either before or after the coming highway-crowded July 4th week-end. This will increase tremendously the chance that you and your loved ones will be alive on July 5th.

Police departments are cracking down on speeders. Detroit has cut its accident rate in half by putting violators in jail. When you drive—drive slower and safer.

Lowell Hi Students Now Making Records

The Ledger this morning received some interesting news from a former Lowell family which we are passing on to our readers. We refer to the Walter Kropts, who now live in Detroit.

Their son, Charlie, graduated from Southeastern high school with honors this month. There were 430 graduates in his class and Charlie, by popular vote of the Seniors, was chosen for outstanding attainment in scholarship, athletics, and leadership, with his name engraved on the Michigan Honor trophy awarded by the University of Michigan club of Detroit. He was also given a Regents-Alumni scholarship to the U. of M. where he will be enrolled this fall.

Walter Jr., graduated a week ago from Wayne University of Business Administration, and is employed tentatively in Sandusky.

Rodney has finished his second year in Law School, and both he and Charlie are giving their muscles a work-out in the factory this summer.

Carol, who attends college at Ypsilanti, is waiting table this season at Pinehurst Inn at Indian River.

Mrs. Kropf (formerly Hazel Stocking) writes her praise of Lowell schools for the basic educational training her family received here. She also mentions how much she likes Agnes Perry's news column, and sends best regards to the family friends in Lowell.

U. S. Editors Annual Goodwill Tour Through Ontario a Great Success

The Seventh Annual U. S. Editors' Goodwill Tour of Ontario with Harold Jefferies of the Lowell Ledger one of the Michigan representatives, was ten days filled with hospitality and gracious treatment such as few Americans find in this country.

The tour was sponsored by the Department of Travel and Publicity of the Province of Ontario, the Hotel Association of the Province of Ontario, the Ontario-Quebec Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association and the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

Niagara Falls from the Air
The tour started on Thursday morning, June 15, from Buffalo, N. Y., with a plane trip to Toronto, the plane circling several times over the Niagara Falls to give a beautiful view of the cascading water. Lunch was served in Toronto at the Royal Canadian Yacht Club by the Toronto Convention and Tourist Association, after which the group was taken on a boat trip around the Toronto waterfront.

A reception and dinner was held that evening in the Royal York hotel by the Ontario Government after which the Toronto paper, the Globe and Mail was visited. The group left Toronto at midnight by special train section for Ottawa.

Friday, June 16, the editors arrived at Ottawa and were immediately taken to the Chateau Laurier Hotel for breakfast as guests of the Canadian National Railways and the hotel. During the morning the party toured Ottawa and visited the mint where each editor was given a sample (a silver dollar and ten cent piece, which is the value of an American dollar in Canada). Lunch was served at Lansdowne Park Assembly Hall with the Canadian Restaurant association as hosts.

See Canadian Mounties
The group visited the Training Barracks of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police where demonstrations of drilling and riding were given. Dinner and reception were given in the evening at the Chateau Laurier by the Canadian Government Travel Bureau. All boarded the special section train at midnight on a 117-mile trip across Ontario to Minaki at the extreme west end of the province only 100 miles from Winnipeg.

Saturday, June 17, was spent on the train crossing through the wilds of the province passing hundreds of lakes and watching the miles and miles of pine forest go past the train windows. The editors had a new roomette car for sleeping and an observation car to ride in, all of which were taken in the train's diner.

Sunday, June 18, the party arrived at Minaki where the Canadian National Railroad has a beautiful summer resort on the Lake of the Woods. The day was spent golfing and fishing with a fine catch of walleyes and northern pike for those interested in fishing.

Famous Lake of the Woods
Monday, June 19, the editors were all taken by launch through the rapids of the headwaters of the Winnipeg river to Kenora about 20 miles, where they were met by representatives of the Minnesota and Ontario Pulp and Paper company and taken through their print paper mill and later to a dinner at the company clubhouse overlooking the Lake of the Woods. That evening the entire party was taken to Canadian Pacific Railways Devils Gap Lodge by launch for the night.

The Fatal Fourth Is With Us Again

Fourth of July week-end accidents took 80 Michigan lives last year: 64 lives in 1948 and 49 lives in 1947.

Drowning, traffic accidents and over-exposure to excessive heat and sun were the major causes of death during last year's liberty-celebrating holiday. 29 people died in swimming or boating accidents, 11 in traffic, 8 from excessive heat or heat-stroke, 4 from fire and 4 from falls, 2 in airplane accidents, and 1 in farming.

During the Independence Holiday in 1948, 24 were killed in traffic and 23 drowned; in 1947, 24 were killed in traffic and 13 drowned.

You may save your life this week-end if you give your swim, boat, drive, walk, fly and play with care, the Department said. Let's keep Michigan free—from accidental death or maiming injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bartlett have sold their home on N. Monroe street to Richard Schlemmizer, manager of the Franks 5 and 10c Store. It is understood possession will be given soon.

The Gamble Store was closed a couple of days the first of the week while Albert Hermans, manager, was in Ionia, where he was called by the death of his father, John Hermans. Mr. Hermans' death occurred in his home at Ionia Sunday and funeral services were held on Tuesday.

The Showboat has been brought into home port and is being made ready for its trips down the river, 'round Cattail Bend during 1950 Showboat week. The color scheme in the repainting job has not been made public but the committee has a very attractive outline and promises this year's Showboat will outshine all previous attempts to give Lowell's out-door entertainment feature a beautiful background.

During the electric storm Friday night there was some damage to the Light and Power Plant and lines here which kept the men busy for a few days making repairs and keeping the service running without interruption.

Other minor damages are reported throughout the rural area but nothing serious. The rain was most welcome as fields were getting dry and farm crops needed the moisture.

Mrs. Byrd Beachum, Grand Guardian of International Order of Job's Daughters reports that the local girls, Marian Parker, who was selected Bethel Queen; Julie Lundberg, honorary Marshal to the Grand Officers; and Beverly Bedell Junior Custodian of Selected Bethel, did work which the friends in Lowell may well be proud of. These Daughters accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Beachum and Mrs. Elizabeth Warden, Supreme Secretary, on a boat trip from Ludington to Manitowish, Wis., and then to Menominee for the sessions, returning home by way of the Straits—"rather wiled."

In renewing his subscription to the Ledger, Louis Quiggle of Ypsilanti, pens the following: "Don't know what you would do without the old home town paper as we have been away for eight years now and sure love to have the home news."

Thanks Mr. Quiggle for these kind words.

High humidity which is frequently with us in summer, brings the housewife to face and crass mold. The soft, fuzzy looking, gray-green, dustlike growth, bedecked shoes, clothing, book covers, bed covers, carpets, on draps folds even walls. If it isn't removed soon it may discolor and rot that upon which it adheres.

Mold has a beneficial role, as science has proven. Penicillin is the miracle drug evolved from it. Yeast for bread and rolls, is mold. But it should have its place and according to Lowell home-makers, it isn't doing any good on leather and clothing though it may save some day.

As you bemoan it, also bless it.

The Fourth of July is based on conscience, whether to give your conscience to right or wrong, to oppression or freedom, to power or your neighbor's good, your own humility before God or man. Oration and fireworks have long been the parable of July.

The automobile has cut down on the oratory and the state laws have done likewise with the fireworks. The fulfillment of the Fourth has not been changed, however. Your conscience won't permit it to change.

Americans don't think of this date as the anniversary of declaring their independence from England but rather as a time to thank their Maker for the state laws which the same as Britons have fought for in more recent years than 1776.

We two nations have been reconciled through brotherhood, but this has not concluded our celebration of the Fourth. We still continue to respect and cherish the pledged words.

The celebration will not be the last but continue as long as our conscience is for good. There continues to be attacks against our defense of democracy, unconquerable passions in men who would conquer traditions and privileges.

So we reaffirm our faith, resolve to preserve national independence, individual liberties, this Fourth and every Fourth for ever and ever, amen.

Wonder Drug Makes Pigs Gain Faster

Proof for the claims of the wonder drug called streptomycin and its value in swine feeding is shown in the picture above. Two two-liter-mates got identical results in a 43-day feeding test at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station at East Lansing. Both weighed 25 pounds at the start. The piglet getting Wonder Drug gained 16 1/2 pounds more than the piglet getting the basic 18 percent protein ration of corn, soyabean oil meal, B vitamins, and minerals.

STATE'S ROADS FOLLOW INDIAN TRAILS IN LARGE PART, WAYNE U. STUDY SHOWS

Leonard Clarkson, a Wayne student descended from a full-blooded Indian, dons his forebears' traditional costume to demonstrate one method Indians used in marking trails across the state. A supple tree branch was positioned in the direction that the trail ran, and tied with twigs to give it a humped appearance. The highway being inspected by Wayne roads is U.S. 16, which follows an ancient Indian trail.

Michigan's major highways, which comprise one of the finest road systems in the nation, were at one time only faint trails over which pained moccasined feet as Indians traveled.

It was native Indians of the state who were responsible in large part for the routes followed by our modern highways, says Dr. Floyd Stigebauer, professor of geography at Wayne University in Detroit.

The re-arched engineers, who planned the quickest means of travel along waterways and other routes of few obstacles, laid out their trails in the direction that the trail ran, and tied with twigs to give it a humped appearance.

Such a trail was the Potawatomi, which ran from Detroit to Chicago. At Ypsilanti the Suak Trail, coming from the south, joined it to form a fork. Today the fork remains the Potawatomi trail now being U.S. 12 and the Suak Trail U.S. 112.

Lowell's Population Has Grown to 2,150 Since 1940 Census

James A. Carmody, Grand Rapids, census supervisor, of the Department of Commerce, reports in a letter to the Ledger, the preliminary announcement of the population of the village of Lowell. The count to date of the returns of the census taken as of April 1, 1950, is 2,150.

This tabulation gives Lowell a gain of 106 over the population count of the 1940 census which was officially listed as 1,944.

Mr. Carmody states this figure is believed to be substantially correct but is subject to revision after returns for non-residents are credited to their proper locality and other routine checks have been made. Although material revision is unlikely, it may occur after careful examination of the returns. The official announcement of population will be made at a later date by the Director, Bureau of the Census, at Washington, D. C.

Will Stress Hunting Plan for This Fall

The extension service of Michigan State College is again cooperating with the Michigan Department of Conservation in sponsoring the "Williamston Plan" for controlled hunting on southern Michigan farms.

Charles Shick, MSC game management specialist, says the plan allows for systematic harvesting of the annual farm game crop by limiting the number of hunters through a permit system.

Under the plan, farmers organize a club, post boundary signs, and issue guest tickets.

Additional information on the "Williamston Plan" may be obtained from the Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State College, East Lansing, or the Game Division, Michigan Department of Conservation, Lansing 13.

Speakers can be scheduled to give details to interested groups.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all our friends, neighbors and relatives for their deeds of kindness, beautiful floral tributes, and sympathy tendered during the illness and at the death of our dear wife and sister, Isabelle. We especially wish to thank Rev. Gardner for his comforting words, Mrs. Wachterhanser for the music and the pallbearers, also the Roths for their kindness.

It was a beautiful fall Sunday morning in a rural church. A small child was brought forward for baptism. The young, eloquent minister, taking the little one in his arms, said: "Beloved hearers, no one can foretell the future of this little child. He may grow up to be a great business man like Henry Ford, or a great labor leader like J. H. Thomas, and it is entirely possible that he might someday become president of these United States." Turning to the mother, he inquired: "What is the name of the child?"

"Mary Ann," was the quiet reply.

Any woman has accomplished a great deal when you take into consideration that she has to bring up her husband, along with the children.

Governor Disputes Republican Claims Legislators Point to Real Achievement

By Gene Alleman, Sec'y-Manager Michigan Press Association

From now until November election day, Michigan bi-partisan government will be somewhat of a farce. The governor's efficient press secretary, Paul Weber, is preparing a constant line of attack to run down Republicans' claims and to promote the Williams campaign for re-election. You may safely expect plenty of righteous and angry statements from both sides. Remember, 1950 is an election year.

After vetoing the $10,380 Louis A. Kunzig salary from the civil service budget, Governor G. Menen Williams staged a friendly rescue act for the civil service commission's full constitutional allowance. He vetoed a legislative cut of $40,500, explaining that the state constitution required one per cent of the state salary total for maintenance of the civil service department. The $40,500 reduction would have been unconstitutional, said Williams. The commission had previously agreed to the cut.

The governor signed the legislature's $271,000,000 omnibus appropriation bill quite reluctantly. He said he was forced to sign it to prevent "financial chaos" although the amount was $70,000,000 less than the current year's total. Williams is disputing Republican claims of economy, while legislative leaders are pointing to the record as a real achievement—the first check on rising government expenditures since 1933.

Operations and payrolls of Michigan's mental hospitals will have to be trimmed after July 1, according to Charles F. Wagg, state mental health director. New vacancies will remain unfilled to the extent of 300 to 350 jobs. While cutting $1,574,000 from the hospital budget, the legislature added $100,000 to hire additional psychiatrists and adjust pay of those already in service.

Michigan automobile industry and GM's five-year peace pact with CIO, is leading the nation's prosperity parade at present. Car output is forecast at seven million (including trucks). Retail trade is due to be better than 1949. However, consumers are still calling for deflation in prices, and the dependency of the 1950 boom on automobiles and housing has prompted several economists to recommend caution.

Legislative bills to remedy so-called waste of public funds in welfare administration were permitted by Governor Williams to become law without his signature. The senate committee on social aid and welfare, headed by Colen Smith, reported Jan. 12 that "millions of dollars have been wasted" due to lax administration, especially in Detroit. The state puts up 50 cents of each relief dollar expended. The legislative bills were aimed at a tightening of practices which have contributed to higher welfare expenditures.

Stewart Woodfill, president of Mackinac Island's Grand Hotel, offers this bit of convincing logic why a bridge should be built at the Straits: Assuming that no federal aid should be used, the bridge would pay for itself on the $1,000,000 annual loss to the state due to ferry operation deficit, depreciation of ferry and dock equipment, and interest on invested funds lost to the state. In 1949 the ferry fleet lost $615,500. This amount, if used to finance the bridge, would retire the bridge bond issue and leave the crossing toll-free. The legislature authorized a study commission.

Michigan 45,000 dairymen are observing June Dairy Month by pointing to these facts. Cash receipts of milk products were near $200 million in 1949 for 30 per cent of Michigan's total farm income. The investment in production, processing and delivery exceeds a billion dollars.

Agricultural economists of Michigan State College forecast "slightly lower" farm product prices in the second half of 1950, as compared with 1949. Farm income nationally is down 20 per cent from the 1948 peak.
