

Sale By Pound Not Practical

Returning to the basic egg law of 1927-28, Commissioner John B. Strange has signed Michigan Ruling No. 890 governing the sale of eggs. This ruling replaces the order providing for the sale of eggs by the pound, rather than by the dozen, cancelled August 1st by Commissioner Strange as impractical.

The new ruling establishes grades for eggs, complying with federal standards, for dealers who might desire to handle eggs of this quality. The four grades established are to be known as Michigan Fancy, Michigan Grade A, Michigan Grade B, and Michigan Grade C, with the ruling providing definitions for each.

Departmental inspectors are being trained. Commissioner Strange said, "to detect inedible eggs and in the future will inspect the eggs being offered at retail in Michigan. Grocers will be instructed regarding the departmental ruling and will be warned that further violations of the section will result in prosecutions. Inspectors are being instructed to arrest for second violation. Inedible eggs must not be sold in Michigan and if necessary we intend to prosecute those dealers who refuse to cooperate with the department in improving the quality of the eggs being sold in this state. The egg ruling conforms with the basic egg law of 1927-28 and the department feels that much confusion has been eliminated by returning to this law, with which the majority of the dealers are thoroughly acquainted."

No Wonder Dairymen Burn With Anger

"You mothers of children who need milk may read this and weep, or you may read it and then arise in righteous anger and march on the state capitol armed with rolling pins or milk bottles or whatever it is with which women arm themselves for battle," says the Cassopolis News, continuing "Michigan dairymen have attempted to have milk exempted from the sales tax, not only because of its necessity in every household but because selling a bottle or two of milk each day to a family does not entitle them to collect a sales tax, with the result that when they pay a sales tax on their gross business each month the money must come out of their own pockets. The State would not allow the exemption, claiming that it would require an act of the legislature to exempt milk from the sales tax.

"Then the State turns about and exempts whiskey from the sales tax, and did that burn up the dairymen? It did. They renewed their efforts last week and asked that milk be given the same exemption as whiskey, but again they were turned down and told that it could not be done without an act of the legislature, even though whiskey was exempted without a special act of that body. Ye gods, what a State! The dairymen are for the adults and taxed milk for the babies!

"Have Michigan people fallen so low that whiskey takes precedence over milk and that men's appetites are more important than the babies' needs? No, we rather believe that the people of our state are still as high as the mountains, and only the little group that governs us up at Lansing who are making the state appear ridiculous by taxing milk and exempting whiskey."

State Loses a Great Man

WILLIAM M. SMITH

The State of Michigan lost a great man last Saturday afternoon when William M. Smith of St. Johns was instantly killed in an automobile accident near East Lansing. He was 67 years of age. The story of Mr. Smith's life reads like the story of those kind of men who made our nation great. Left fatherless in his early teens, young Will Smith took on the care and protection of his mother and his five brothers and sisters. In the meantime he educated himself, taught school, became Clerk of Clinton County, studied law and was admitted to the bar, became prosecuting attorney of Clinton County, was later elected to the State Senate and still later became chairman of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission under Gov. Albert E. Steeper, and still later again served as chairman of the P. U. C. under Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald.

In all of these capacities Will Smith served with ability and integrity. He was a man of unusual mental and physical vigor, there being hardly a day of his life in which he did not work from sixteen to eighteen hours and withal he found time to lend support to the worthwhile activities of his home town, St. Johns, and his home county.

It is well that Lowell people should give a thought of appreciation to Will Smith, as M-21 became an official east and west trunkline across the state as a result of a bill sponsored by him while a member of the state senate. The same bill also fixed the route of US-27, north and south. We wish to tell our readers of an incident that portrays the big heart of Will Smith: One day at the risk of his own life he saw him descend into a reservoir in an endeavor to rescue three men who had been overcome with monoxide gas. Two of the men died from their experience but the life of the third was saved.

Funeral rites for Mr. Smith were held in the Congregational church of St. Johns Tuesday afternoon and it was fitting that many of the state's distinguished citizens came to pay their last respects.

Widely Known Choir At M. E. Church Sunday

One of the best known of Michigan musical organizations is the choir of the First Methodist Church of Battle Creek. For many years now, this large church has specialized in church music. Their leader for the past years has been Mr. Harland W. Cleveland, a highly trained musician, who is the minister of music in this church, giving all his time to the work. He will bring his group to the Lowell M. E. Church this Sunday evening, Nov. 28.

Barnum Solved It

Barnum solved the problem of the fellow that's always seeking a free pass to a show by giving them to those who asked for free admission, cards which read: Search the Scriptures. "Thou shalt not pass."—Numbers XX, 18.

"Suffer not a man to pass."—Judges III, 23.

"The wicked shall no more pass."—Nahum I, 15.

"None shall pass."—Mark XIII, 30.

"Beware that thou pass not."—Kings VI, 9.

"There shall no strangers pass."—Amos III, 17.

"Neither any son of man shall pass."—Jeremiah LI, 43.

"No man may pass through because of the beasts."—Ezekiel XIV, 18.

"Though they roar, yet they can not pass."—Jeremiah XX, 22.

"So he paid the fare thereof and went."—Jonah I, 3.

Local Women Injured In Accident on US-16

Mrs. Linda Loucks, 64, of Lowell suffered a broken leg in an auto accident on US-16 at Ferguson Corners early last Thursday night. She was riding with Mrs. Zeona Ingersoll, 43, of R. 3, Grand Rapids, whose car collided with one operated by C. D. Freiss, 39, of Clarksville. It is reported that the accident was due to slippery pavement.

Mrs. Loucks was taken to Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, with Mrs. Frank Gould of Lowell, who was also riding with Mrs. Ingersoll. Mrs. Loucks is still in the hospital but it is reported that she is doing fine. Mrs. Gould was returned to her home after being treated for injuries and is getting along well.

Freiss was accompanied by his wife, Nellie, and daughter, Jeanette, 15. The latter received a severe bump over the right eye. Newest in suede leather jackets. First quality reindeer suede, regular and sport styles, sateen lined, zippers, $6.99 and $7.85.—Coons.

Along Main St.

Do you know that approximately 1200 automobiles were licensed in this community this year? Of this number, Lowell dealers sold about 400 new cars, while about 800 licenses were issued on used cars.

F. P. MacFarlane says he's going to be for Mel McPherson for Governor. "The Scotch should hang together," says Mac. Now, does Mac mean that they should not hang separately? All jokes aside, however, the Ledger suggests that a band of Scotch bagpipe players would prove quite an innovation for the campaign of 1938.

Willie Wepman, Lowell high school graduate, completed his first season of coaching successfully this week when Dimondale high school, where he coaches, won the last game of the season and claimed the Class D championship of Michigan being undefeated in their own class. All the games Dimondale played this season were with schools with higher enrollment.

Lowell fire department obtained their fire fighting experience last Friday when they responded to a call for assistance from Ada. The home of Dr. H. O. Messmore is in flames when the Lowell department arrived. They reached the scene in fifteen minutes after they were called, going 10 miles over icy roads. The pump was the only means of throwing water, taken from the Thornapple river, forcing two streams of water on the fire. The blaze was brought under control after a battle of nearly six hours.

One of our subscribers complains that he is unable to read his Ledger until Sunday because his neighbors borrow it as soon as he takes it from the mailbox. He says that everyone should realize that the cost of the paper is very little compared with the trouble of having to go over to somebody else's house to get it, wait for someone else to finish reading it, and then not have the privilege of cutting out special things for himself. After all, for just 4c a week everyone should have a personal copy of the Ledger to do with as he pleases.

Don Marquis, the New York columnist, has written a lot of stuff in his many years, and believes that writing is 80 easy. In fact, he says, all one has to do is to agree that Webster has the words, and I pick them up from where they lie; a word and there a word—it's so easy, 'tis absurd. I merely range them in a row, Webster's done the work, you know; Word follows word, till inch by inch. I have a column. What a cinch! I take the words that Webster penned and merely lay them end to end.

Here is a story from the pen of E. A. Stowe in the Michigan Tradesman: Mrs. Henry, wife of the Lowell druggist and daughter of the late Charley McCarty, tells me a story about her father which is certainly characteristic of the man. On one occasion a country lad had brought a pair of tame goats to town to sell to Mr. McCarty. As the goats were not readily salable he turned them over to his children who drove them about town attached to a cart which was large enough to transport two or three children of small size. One morning the goats followed the children to school unnoticed. After school had been called to order the goats quietly proceeded to the hall where the lads hung up their head gear and quickly devoured a dozen or more caps. When the matter was brought to the attention of Mr. McCarty he sent word to the children who had suffered loss at the hands of the goats to come to his store and get their caps he had in stock to recompense them for their loss.

Lowell Window Night Next Wednesday, 7:30

Carol Singing, Real Santa Claus, Decorated Christmas Trees

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Lowell Board of Trade last Friday night, it was decided to have Window Night on Wednesday evening, Dec. 1.

Window Night will celebrate the opening of the Christmas season in Lowell, with the singing of Christmas carols, the lighting of the Christmas trees on the streets and the appropriate decorating of store windows. The Lowell Light and Power Plant will have the municipal Christmas trees lighted and William Christiansen and committee will have the village streets decorated with beautiful Christmas trees, which they brought from the Upper Peninsula, especially to decorate the streets of the village. A real, live Santa Claus will be on the streets this night and distribute gifts to the children. Bring all the children to town for window night. Theron Richmond, Babe Wingier and F. J. McMahon have arranged for the carol singers, numbering nearly one hundred, from the high school, under the direction of Bruce Walter, head of the high school music department.

Window displays of the merchants will be judged at 7:30 by a committee composed of Mrs. Lee Lampkin, Mrs. John Freeman and Mrs. Kathleen Walsh. The stores will be closed from 6:30 until 7:30 while the store windows are being judged. The merchants displaying the three most attractive windows will receive prizes, and blue, red and white ribbons for first, second and third places, respectively, will be placed in the windows. The stores will be open until 10:00 p. m. on this evening and will have the new lines of Christmas goods on display.

The executive committee also decided to continue the Lowell Day Plan each Wednesday until January 1, 1938.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Installation Of O. E. S. Officers

Installation of officers for Cycloamen Chapter, No. 94, O. E. S., was held last Friday evening at the Masonic Temple with a nice representation of visitors from Clarksville, Ada and Saranac. The retiring matron, Frances Jeffreys, called the meeting to order, asking the Marshal, Matilda White, to escort the installing officers to their chairs. These officers were: Installing Matron, Past Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, O.E.S. Georgina Bauer of Hastings; Marshal, Past Grand Chaplain, Minnie Lett, of Clarksville; Chaplain, Past Grand Warden, Grace Murphy, Freepoot; Organizer, Mabel Stauffer Lowell, When Worthy Matron Beatrice Krum was installed, her officers escorted her, with the Grand Marshal, to her station and Harley Maynard sang "Her Task", accompanied by Mrs. Stauffer. The little Misses Susan Krum and Ona Roth presented the Matron with a lovely bouquet and gift.

The officers elected were then installed: Worthy Patron, Elmer S. White; Associate Matron, Doris Roth; Associate Patron, William C. Hartman; Secretary, Emma Coons; Treasurer, Lora Hartman; Conductress, Lila Johnson; Associate Conductress, Katie Carr; Chaplain, Hannah Reynolds; Marshal, Jessie Bennett; Organist, Rosella Yetter (Mrs. Yetter was not able to be present and will be installed later); Ada, Lila Armstrong; Ruth, Inez Avery; Esther, Myrtle Sinclair; Martha, Ella Purchase, who also was unable to be present; Electa, Onida Brighton; Warden, Anna Yardley; Sentinel, L. E. Johnson.

After the points of the Star were in their stations, the Grand Marshal escorted Mr. Hartman to each point, presenting each one with a bouquet of flowers of the color of their respective point and reading a very impressive ceremony. Miss Ruth Houseman rendered two violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. Stauffer.

The retiring matron, with a few remarks, presented the installing officers with a little token of remembrance, expressing the Chapter's appreciation of their coming to help with this ceremony. The matron then spoke briefly and called on her visitors, after which all retired to the dining room for delicious refreshments.

Junior past matron Lora Hartman presented Mrs. Jeffreys with a lovely bouquet of roses and the past matron's jewel. Mr. Maynard then sang "In the Heart of a Rose".

The committee in charge of the evening was Doris Roth, Lora Hartman, Katie Carr, Maude Lee, Jessie Bennett and Mary Warner. All deserve great credit for their untiring efforts in making the evening a success.

With this fine corps of officers, Cycloamen Chapter will prosper and the best of wishes are extended to them.

H. S. Band, Orchestra To Give Concert

The high school Senior Band and Orchestra are giving an interesting concert the second week in December. This year's bands and orchestras are highly superior to former years and the concert will be very good. There are some less common instruments playing in our band and orchestra for the first time this year. They are the bassoon, viola, stringed bass, and oboe.

Our high school marching band closed a successful season at the football game. Although Mr. Walter states that eight of his best and most experienced players were on the football team, he was able to produce younger members who filled the vacancies admirably. In comparison with competing bands at the games, Lowell's band looked good.

Some of the formations made at the games were "H", "G", "LEE", "L", "U. S. A.", an anchor and various drill maneuvers. The addition of white Sam Browns belts to the colorful red uniforms made the band appear snappy. Lowell's two drum majors, Ruth Houseman and Robert Warner, also made a creditable showing. Lowell may well take pride in its high school band.

Hope to Secure Branch Office Here For Auto Plates

According to letters received by the Common Council, the village of Lowell may expect a branch office of the state's office in Lowell in the near future. The need for the establishment of an auto licensing branch in the village has been brought to the attention of the council and a great deal of effort has been put forth by the council members to secure such an office. The members of the Lowell Board of Trade, the Rotary Club and the Democratic Township Committee join with the common council in seeking the establishing of a branch office here. More than ten thousand people in the area surrounding Lowell would be served by a local branch and the auto dealers of Lowell and vicinity would benefit by an office here to register titles.

Through efforts of the council and local townpeople Secretary of State Leon D. Case has been made aware of the need of a branch office here. In a letter to the council, Secretary Case stated that he would consider the matter and act in the near future. The village's needs were investigated by William Carpenter, state investigator of the secretary of state's office and we were informed that Mr. Carpenter considers the position of the village fully warrants the establishment of a branch here.

Lowell people appreciate the earnest consideration which is being given the matter by Secretary of State Case and his department.

Michigan Folks Have Many Reasons For Thankfulness

In a mood of Thanksgiving this week, the average citizen in Michigan has many reasons to be grateful.

Counting his "blessings one by one," he finds: That November business in Michigan remains above the national average, according to federal reserve figures.

That retail sales are one billion dollars ahead of last year's, making a 19.4 per cent gain for Michigan as compared with Dun and Bradstreet's 15 to 18 per cent retail gain in October.

That Michigan agriculture, because of its diversity of crops, "faces winter with a relatively better outlook than does the average farmer in the United States," according to a federal report this month.

That the increase of dollars earned by workers during August showed a 36 per cent jump over August, 1936. Figures of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation

WHERE YOUR TAXES GO

MURL H. DeFoe, of Charlotte, Michigan Republican-Tribune, knows his government and its policies. He has this to say about the subject of "where your taxes go": "When every sixth automobile is being driven by a person supported by public taxation of some sort all these 'efficiency' charges may eventually demand a specially designed automobile so the public may observe at a glance the political personality and voting rating performances of this fast growing army of tax eating democrats. At least the adoption of some such identification would be one way to wake up the public to the sensational growth of the accentuated spoils systems of both national and state administrations. A complete list of names and wages of all state and federal employees in this country, or any other, would be a shock to the public, even the democrats themselves.

REFLECTOR BUTTONS TO BE INSTALLED ON US-16

ReflectORIZED buttons on all guard rail posts along US-16 between Lansing and Grand Rapids have been ordered installed by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagner. The order means the placing of about 1,500 buttons. As the car approaches a guard rail, the button will be crystal with a red reflection on the guard rail at the left side of the road.

STIMULATING BUILDING

IT IS good news that the Government in Washington is concerning itself with the problem of stimulating building construction, by means of Federal insurance of building loans or otherwise. The method is not important, but the objective is decidedly important. The highest percentage of unemployment today is in the building trades and the industries which manufacture building materials. And at the same time the greatest need of the nation is for more houses, urban and rural, more factories and industrial buildings.

The United States has been losing ground every year in its building activities for the past ten years. We have been spending about a quarter as much on new housing as the needs of our growing population require. Normally we should build the equivalent of a city the size of Los Angeles every year.

Various conditions have combined to make the building field unattractive to investors. If Washington will remove, as it can, the major handicaps which have slowed down building investments, the nation can easily be started on a wave of real prosperity, with something to show for it when the slack recurs again.

The American people should thoroughly understand one thing, and that is when money is paid out to anybody, taxes must be levied to cover such payments. The government can't go on borrowing many years, trusting to the future to somehow supply means for payment.

THINK OF CHRISTMAS

IT IS HIGH TIME for people to be thinking of their Christmas purchases. If they would buy all their gifts in November or early December, they would save expense, get the pick of the goods, and avoid the annoyance that comes from trying to shop when so many other people are doing the same thing.

A Thanksgiving Prayer

For what we have, though small it be,
We thank thee, Lord,
For the simple joys of serenity,
We thank thee, Lord,
For the gentle touch of the friendly hand
Of those who love and understand,
We thank thee, Lord.

Of all thy gifts the greatest three
Are friendship, love and fidelity.
Let others pray for the harvest's yields,
For the golden grains of the fruitful fields,
Humbly our prayer to thee we send
That when we've reached our journey's end,
Someone may say, "Farewell, good friend."

"The Cooky Lady" and Tim's Christmas Letter

PATSY liked to take her doll out in the sunny kitchen and watch Ann, the cook, roll out the cooky dough and cut round moons; then put them in a long pan ready for the oven. When they came out all smelly and warm Ann would put some on a paper plate for Patsy to eat. Ann had the nicest dimples when she smiled, and Patsy would smile right back at her and say: "Thank you, Cooky lady."

Sometimes there were brown cookies and fruity ones, too, but the red and green candied ones that Ann made for Christmas were the very best of all. Patsy adored Ann. Through the seven short years of her life she had been her constant companion. Mother was just the lovely lady who was always busy with her clubs and going places, and Daddy was too busy at the office to be bothered much; but there was always Ann.

Patsy liked the nice postman, Tim, who came to see Ann and sometimes they all went to the movies together. Tim could play "pretend" almost as good as Ann. But once she heard him call Ann his best girl, and say: "Some day you're going to cook for me." After that she did not like him so well. Things seemed all wrong, and Santa hadn't answered her letter, and it was only two days till Christmas. She had said: "Please write soon," and that had been days ago. He must help quick, or it would be too late. Several times a day she would go to the mailbox and stand on tiptoe to look in for fear her letter had been overlooked.

"Here, Tim," said one of the office clerks, "is another of the kid letters to Santa Claus; guess this one's up to you." Printed in a childish scrawl on the envelope, Tim read: "Santa Claus, care of Tim." He drew out the folded paper. It read: "Dear Santa, please bring Tim another best girl cause Ann has to cook for us."

"Your friend, Patsy Reynolds."

Tim stared, then chuckled: "Santa, old boy, you're up against it this time."—Joelle Webb Pearson. © Western Newspaper Union.

Case Checks Delay In License Issuing

Two changes in procedure of issuing operators' and chauffeurs' licenses have been ordered by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State.

In cases where applications for operators' licenses are received in Lansing from local examining officers too late to permit return of the license within the 30 day temporary permit period provided by law, postcards advising applicants of this fact, will be sent to them. The date any such application was received at the Department of State will be noted on the card.

This move is one to forestall queries from applicants as to their applications after the 30 day period has expired. Case expects to demonstrate that the delay in issuing occurs before the application reaches his department.

Chauffeurs' licenses and badges for 1938 will be placed on sale Dec. 1.

Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the Lowell Woman's Club was held Nov. 17 at the home of Mrs. J. F. Friel.

Mrs. W. W. Gumsier, president, called the meeting to order at 2:30 p. m. and proceeded with the regular order of business, after which the names of two applicants were read and were unanimously elected to membership, also the name of a former member who was reinstated.

Following the various reports and announcements, the president proposed that the club work out a plan whereby it might be helpful in some way at Christmas time. A committee was appointed to confer with the civic committee for that purpose, and bring its report to the following meeting.

At this time the meeting was turned over to program chairman, who introduced Mrs. Glenwood C. Fuller of Grand Rapids, who most graciously sang three numbers as follows: "Autumn" by Rogers, "The Bitterness of Love" by Dunn, "The Song of the Open" by LaForge. Her accompanist was Mrs. Hugh Kutche, also of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Kutche visited the club last year and favored it with some of her lovely instrumental selections.

Mrs. Bartlett then introduced the guest speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Alma Spring of Sand Lake, who took as her subject, "Psychology." She dwelt quite at length on the power of thought, citing several instances in her own experience where she had benefited both physically and financially. She stated that her discourse had no bearing on any religion, but that any one might profit by being willing to change his mind.

Mrs. Fuller again favored with two songs in French, after which Mrs. Albert Duell gave two readings which were much enjoyed. The president declared the meeting adjourned.

Canned Apples For Pies

Apples, 1 gallon sliced; sugar, 2 cups.

Peel and core sound apples. Slice one-eighth inch thick. Pack apples in a gallon jar, placing a layer of apples and then a layer of sugar. Repeat until all apples are used. Cover with a plate and press down. Allow to stand over night in a cool place.

Pack the apples into sterilized jars, using a wooden spoon to obtain a solid pack. Add enough juice to fill the jar. Process 20 minutes in a boiling water bath (210 degrees F.), counting time when water is actually boiling. These apples make excellent pies. The juice may be cooked 5 or 10 minutes to concentrate before being used for drinking.
