Russia Declares War On Japan

At three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon President Truman summoned the members of the press and radio to the White House, saying that he had a simple statement to make. The statement was, "Russia has declared war on Japan!"

Within a half hour the civilized world was rocking with the great news.

At five o'clock Russia served notice on Japan that war would begin the next day, Thursday, August 9.

Russia's action in declaring war, coupled with our demonstration on Monday of what can be done with the atom bomb, should serve notice on Japan that for her to continue the war longer would be utterly futile.

Thousands of American lives will be saved as the result of what has taken place this week.

Lieut. Doug Oatley Tells About Saipan

Saw 'Suicide Cliff' Where the Japs Jumped to Their Death

The Ledger is pleased to acknowledge receipt of an interesting letter from Dr. D. E. Oatley, in which he gives a word picture of the Island of Saipan which he toured recently. We know that our readers will all be interested in the following extracts from his letter:

"Dear Jeff: June 26 I was at Saipan, and by the generosity of a friend there who had a Jeep I saw the entire island. It is quite large, lots of bananas which are small but very good. Other tropical fruits are abundant also. The C.B.'s have built many miles of very good roads and although some Japs roam the woods, I didn't get shot at. I saw 'Suicide Cliff' where so many Japs needlessly jumped off and dashed their brains out on the rocks below."

"We went to Ullithi Lagoon and stayed there too long, before coming here. I'm so far away from home now that I doubt if I ever get back. This island is the best of any that I've ever seen. Very much cooler nights, which helps, other things are worse. This is the final resting place for some of our local lads. Very beautiful cemetery, if a cemetery (military) is ever beautiful. No pictures are allowed so I will not be able to bring any home, although there is one cemetery that I am going to try my best to get one of as I promised a boy's mother I would bring her a picture. I'll surely try."

"I had hopes of seeing my brother here but I haven't found him as yet. He is the one who practiced dentistry in St. Johns. This is really a pretty place Jeff. It's not volcanic like the hell hole of Iwo Jima, but a very picturesque place. After we get through here its liable to have many modern, four to six lane highways. It looks like it already."

Sincerely yours, Doug.

How To Stretch Canning Sugar

So that no family need be without plenty of home-canned peaches this year, even though sugar is short, Miss Roberta Hershay, nutrition specialist at M. S. C. stresses that fruit can be canned with little or no sugar, if necessary. It's a good plan to save part of the sugar supply for peaches, but make it go farther by adding some sirup or honey. But if no sugar is available, can them in their own juice.

If some sugar has been reserved, make a sirup of one of the following combinations: 1 cup sugar and 2 1/2 cups water, or 1 cup sugar plus one-half cup honey and 3 1/2 cups water. Drop peeled and halved peaches in boiling sirup, heat through, but do not cook until soft. Pack the hot peaches loosely in jars and cover with boiling liquid to within one-half inch of the top. The lids may then be adjusted according to the directions of the manufacturers and the jars processed in boiling water for 20 minutes. The boiling water should be at least two inches over the tops of the jars.

If no sugar is available, cook sliced or halved peaches in their own juice or with just enough hot water to keep them from sticking to the pan. Pack them in jars, cover with boiling juice, and process as if sirup were used. Peaches canned without sugar may not be quite so tasty, but they will make fine puddings and pies next winter, and the sauce may be sweetened when the jars are opened.

For further suggestions ask for a copy of the leaflet, "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables," at the county extension office.

Aid to Veterans By Kent Co. FSA Returning Service Men to Have Protection in Buying Farms

The appointment of Earl A. Williams of Spencer township and Ralph H. Pratt of Rockford, R. 1, Courtland township, as new members of the Kent Farm Security Administration committee has been announced by the FSA Supervisor, Jay C. Hansen. Appointed by State FSA Director Roswell Carr of Lansing, Mr. Williams will take office for a three-year term replacing John Stefferson of Parnell on the County loan board. Mr. Pratt will fill the unexpired term of Ira Goodell of Cedar Springs, recently deceased. J. C. Proctor of Caledonia is the holdover member on the Board.

The committee will carry heavy responsibilities in the reestablishment of World War II veterans on Kent farms, Hansen said, since they will play prominent parts in three separate programs set up to aid returning servicemen:

Under the GI Bill of Rights, the committee augmented by Robert Kriger, Cashier of the Kent City State Bank, will certify all farm real estate and farm chattel GI loans made in Kent County, reviewing them to protect the veteran against poor investments in farm land or equipment.

In addition to the GI Bill, the committee is also responsible for approving eligibility of veterans who apply for aid under the standard FSA programs for operating goods and farm purchase loans. The new $25,000,000 program of farm ownership loans to experienced farmer veterans is expected to be a major part of FSA's aid to veterans during the next twelve months, Hansen explained. Hansen further emphasized that these particular farm purchase loans will be made only to veterans with satisfactory farm experience and cautioned that it might be difficult in some cases to buy farms at their true agricultural value—that is, a price which the farm's income at long time average prices will be able to repay.

Valuable Aid Rendered Committee members meet regularly in the FSA office at Grand Rapids to review the applications of all applicants for FSA loans—veterans or civilians—and to assist farmers in skillfully planning farm operations for maximum production and efficiency.

Since the start of these programs almost a decade ago approximately $320,000 has been loaned to 645 farmers in Kent County and about $205,000 of it has already been repaid.

"The work of these county committees has been a big reason for FSA's success in its operations in this County," Supervisor Hansen said. "The time and thought they have given to the problems of their fellow farmers have spelled the difference between success and failure of many families. It is through their public spirit and effort that the problems of under-financed farm families will be alleviated."

Saturday's Receipts of New Wheat Biggest for One Day in King Mill History

All day long last Saturday a line of trucks similar to those shown in the above picture could be seen loaded with new wheat for the King Milling Company. Adolph Litschewski, elevator superintendent, reports that Saturday's receipts were more than twice as much for the best, previous day in the mill's long history. It was a grand sight. Read the article in another column for more details.

Bumper Wheat Crop Breaks All Records

Saturday's Receipts at King Mill Double Best Day in History

Last week's favorable weather, coupled with the big crop, brought a flood of wheat to the King Milling Company. Adolph Litschewski, elevator superintendent, reports that Saturday's receipts were more than twice as much as for the best previous day in the mill's long history.

The wheat is of high quality, predominantly of the white varieties. Heavy rains over the week-end increased the moisture content of the uncut wheat so that it cannot be safely binned. The delay in the harvest will allow the hard working grain men a breathing spell to get caught up with their work.

The officials of the Milling company express themselves as well pleased with the quality and quantity of the crop.

N. Y. Colored Giants Coming Next Sunday

Return Game With Haskelettes at Recreation Park at 2:30

The New York Colored Giants, who played the Haskelettes of Grand Rapids a 10-inning tie game here a couple of weeks ago, will play a return engagement at Recreation park, Lowell, next Sunday, Aug. 12, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

On the previous occasion the Giants, due to transportation difficulties, did not present a full team but for next Sunday's game it is definitely promised that they will appear with a full-fledged team and that the game will start on time, at 2:30.

The reputation of the Haskelettes as a first-class team is too well known here to need any repetition as players of our great national pastime. The Giants have a crack southpaw hurler in Collins Roddis, formerly of the Memphis Red Sox, who is also a slugger. Jack Marshall, Clowns' regular second baseman last year and one of the all-time stars of Negro baseball, is the Lincoln Giants' second sacker and field captain. Jim Smith, formerly of the Philadelphia Stars, is an infielder, and Al Bray, who was with the Atlanta Black Crackers, is center-fielder.

Famous last words: "This windshield is pretty dirty, but I can still see okay."

Farmers' Day at M. S. C. Sept. 4

Farmers' Day, an annual event designed to give Michigan farmers opportunity to view progress of agricultural experiments being conducted at M. S. C., will be held on the college campus Tuesday, September 4, in conjunction with the State 4-H Show.

E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, in discussing Farmers' Day plans said that all interested persons, whether farmers or city people, are invited.

Several new and interesting features are being planned. Due to attract many on-lookers will be a special demonstration of the use of DDT for controlling flies in dairy and hog barns. Ray Hutson, head of the entomology department of the college, will be in charge.

Mow drying of hay will be an exhibit repeated this year. It attracted widespread interest at last year's Farmers' Day, and additional information is available for this year's showing by the farm crops and agricultural engineering departments.

Plans are shaping up for a new and novel demonstration in which use of the civilian jeep and a weapon carrier will be viewed by visitors. This and the demonstration of other new machines, such as the recently devised sugar beet harvester, will be handled by the agricultural engineering department.

As in past years, farmers will be privileged to visit the college farm and experimental crop plots. College specialists will be on hand from 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. to answer questions and discuss projects.

Ralph Tenny, college short course director, is in charge of Farmers' Day arrangements.

Lowell Boy Killed In Airplane Crash

T/3 L. J. NUMMER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nummer of Lowell received a telegram from the war department last Thursday night informing them of the death of their son, T/3 L. J. Nummer, who was killed in an airplane accident, July 18, in Austria.

"L. J.," as he was called by all, entered the service March 20, 1941 and left for overseas January 23, 1943. He was born in 1918 and was 27 the 28th of April.

Surviving besides his parents are three brothers, Oscar, serving in the Philippines, Nelson and Bernard at home, and one sister, Freda, also at home.

It will be recalled that his older brother, Captain Erwin Nummer, also paid the supreme sacrifice for his country on December 16, 1944, while serving in the Philippines.

Fresh coats of paint have been applied to the bridge railings on Main-st., also to the lower bridge on Grand river. Even a dull gray has a tendency to brighten up things. Might try a more cheerful color next time.

The common council has issued building permits to the following: To Gerald Staal, at 415 North-st., double garage; to Sidney Cram, house on property purchased from Mrs. Fred Harket, on the west side; to C. D. Frazee, one story frame house and garage in the 900-block on E. Main-st.

When park benches were first installed on Main-st. a few years ago, it was felt they would be a boon to weary shoppers. But of late they seem to be monopolized by some men who seem to have nothing else to do but sit around and squirt tobacco juice on the sidewalk, much to the disgust of everyone.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, who reside near the East Main-st. village limits, report seeing bear tracks in their garden. Others also report seeing bear tracks near the east gateway to the village. Deer are frequently reported in the surrounding locality. Perhaps an old-time bear hunt will be next in order.

Michigan ranks as the most inventive state in the middle west, according to a recent patent survey. Residents of Michigan take out almost twice as many patents, in proportion to population, as the national average. Michigan residents therefore have a special interest in the protection of patents. In fact, all the people have a real interest in the protection of patents because that protection stimulates progress. The do-gooders at Washington who would eliminate this protection would discourage that inventiveness which produces new and useful things for the good of all of us. Profit to the inventor is incidental, and he is entitled to it.

Dispatches from all over the country indicate the shortage of shorts for men is national. In some sections it is reported wives unable to get men's shorts for their husbands are returning from the shops with large size silk "panties" and telling their husbands "you will have to wear these or nothing." E. V. Durling, the columnist, says that this is a depressing and tragic situation. How does it happen the stores are so plentifully supplied with the feminine equivalent of shorts and have nothing for the men. This seems unfair to husbands and Mr. Durling thinks the Husbands' Protective Association should do something about it.

Deadline For Yule Gifts October 15

Postmaster Says Overseas Gifts Should Go Early As Possible

The Lowell postmaster has announced that Christmas parcels for army personnel overseas must be mailed during the period starting September 15 and ending October 15, the earlier the better.

Patrons are urged to send their Christmas packages before November 15 if they are to expect them to reach their destination before Christmas. It would also be appreciated if each gift were marked "Christmas Parcel." Christmas cards for army personnel overseas may be mailed at any time.

The postmaster also urged patrons to mail parcels destined for China, Burma, India, the middle east and islands in the Pacific as early as possible, preferably before October 1.

Holiday packages cannot exceed five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. Christmas packages will be accepted for mailing overseas up to and including December 10, upon presentation by the sender of a change of address notification after the October 15 deadline.

DAILY MIRACLES. SOME PEOPLE SAY that miracles never happen, and they have lost faith in the sacred writings because these tales of events that are called miracles, and seem quite different from the things that one sees now.

There are things that are constantly happening that are as strange as any miracles in the Bible. In the spring time we place a little brown seed in the earth, and by and by it comes up and produces beautiful flowers or some hudson and now, of fruit. This would seem as a miracle if it were not so familiar.

When we hear voices coming through the air from thousands of miles away, this would have been considered a miracle by our grandfathers, yet it happens every day as we listen to our radio.

The world is full of forces that we do not understand, and science still covers more and more of them.

YOUTH GOES AHEAD. THERE WAS A TIME once when men did not usually achieve any great success until they were well along in middle age. The war and modern life generally develop youth very fast. The armed forces depend upon the energy and enthusiasm and tirelessness of youth, and youngsters are performing amazing stunts in all kinds of fields.

Modern schools make young people think, and their school and college activities give them a chance to practice management and develop quickness of action and understanding of human nature. The exigencies of war and the necessity for young men to take heavy responsibilities, and they have the mental quickness that makes them handle those responsibilities. They will be capable of great things when the war ends, and they settle down in civilian life.

GETTING AND GIVING. PEOPLE GET OUT of their homes to live life. If they give little effort to the good causes of their home town, their chances of making friends and enjoying life in the community are not so good. Many people are so busy and burdened with cares, that they can give little or no time to service of a public nature.

If people can be active in the community work of a town, if they are willing to give their time and effort to such causes and local organizations, they develop a wide acquaintance. They form close ties with many people, and are fully compensated by the high regard which they obtain from a wide circle of friends.

HEALTH AS CAPITAL. A YOUNG WOMAN remarked one day that her friends could do certain things without suffering physically, and she felt that that proved she could do them, but this girl was not strong physically. If she frequently deprived herself of sleep that she needed, because her friends were doing so, she took a chance that her health would be impaired. She was often out very late nights, and her pale face indicated that she suffered from this excess which she was not strong enough to stand.

The fact that these friends of this girl could stand these frequent late hours, had no bearing on whether she could or not. Her first task was to preserve her own health, and to be careful not to subject herself to undue strain.

Every one of us is given a certain amount of health and strength, and that is like the capital with which a concern starts out in business. If some of that health capital is lost through excessive expenditure, it is like losing some of the capital of a business, or like people who deplete a fortune by excessive expenditure.

Some strong and healthy young people seem to feel that there is no limit to their strength. After working hard in the daytime, some of them go in for more play in the evening than they ought to. A good amount of recreation is necessary, but if carried to excess it may affect the health of even a vigorous person. Some people have a natural physical strength that they do not show physical deterioration for a long time. Some of them may be drawing on their reserves, and some day those reserves may be drawn on too far, and they find themselves sick and incapacitated.

Many people have their over-estimated their physical strength. It sometimes takes a long time to recover from such excessive strain. It is better to do things moderately, and count carefully our resources, and look out not to draw on them too heavily.

The day becomes more solemn and serene. When noon is past, there is a harmony in Autumn, and a lustre to its sky which through the summer is not heard or seen.

Relatered Doughboys. No American soldier who died fighting abroad in World War I was left to lie on foreign soil except at the express wish of his next-of-kin. While this guarantee was made to only one American battalion in World War I according to Encyclopedia Britannica, it was the primary reason the United States government undertook the tremendous project of transporting 30,000 American dead back across the Atlantic. More than 30,000 American soldiers who died in service in that war still remain buried in France, Belgium and England.

Pretty Home Wedding Unites Lowell Couple

In a candlelight ceremony performed at six o'clock Sunday evening, August 6th, Miss Ida Bernice Speerstra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Speerstra of Lowell, became the bride of Captain Gerald Samuel Yeller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlo John Yeller of Lowell.

Large baskets of white gladioli, red carnations and candelabra formed the setting of the marriage which took place in the home of the bridegroom's mother, with the Reverend David F. Warner reading the service in the presence of 80 guests.

Miss Dorothy Horn of East Lansing played the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose an aqua eyelet batiste floor length gown, with a circlet of red rosebuds banding her hair. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladioli and blue-tinged asters centered with red rosebuds.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Louise Cartwright of Metamora, Ohio, who wore a flower-print gown and carried a small colonial bouquet of pale yellow roses and gladioli. Serving the bridegroom as best man was Staff Sergeant Julius Knowlton of Delton, Michigan.

Completing the wedding party as master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Speerstra, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Speerstra wore a navy and aqua dress with a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Yeller selected a black and white sheer with a red rose corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Among those assisting were Mrs. Charles H. Smith, Mrs. Errol Osborne, Mrs. Mabel Green, Mrs. Margaret Denny, and the Misses Colleen Yeller, Sally Cartwright, Marilyn and Caroline Lustig.

For her going-away outfit the bride wore a white faille dress with brown accessories and brown gabardine coat, and a rosebud corsage.

After a short wedding trip the couple will leave for Fort Knox, Kentucky, where Captain Yeller is now stationed.

Eulogy to a Good Man

The following poem was written in memory of N. C. Thomas, who passed away July 21, 1945, at St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Rapids.

We have lost a friend, a good friend most true, A prince of a man as everyone knew; You were taken away from a busy life, Leaving a tired world of worry and strife.

Your years were three more than three score and ten, You were a great soul, a man among men; Honesty and integrity were your birthright, Honor and fairness were surely your delight.

Your's was a kind heart, so full of good cheer, For many years you worked as Auctioneer; You were a teacher and as post-master worked, A builder and storekeeper, you never shirked.

You have won many friends all through the years, Fortune has sent you smiles and a few tears; You have been kind to high as well as low; God in Heaven doth blessing on you bestow.

Your good deeds are too numerous to tell, Surely in life you have done very well; You're the kind of man good people adore, May your soul rest in peace on yonder shore.

WEDDINGS

Roth-Beebe
Miss Violet Esther Beebe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard C. Beebe, of Lewes, Delaware, and Technical Sergeant George S. Roth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roth of Detroit and Lowell, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Sunday afternoon, July 29, 1945, at one o'clock, in the presence of the parents of the couple and near relatives and close friends of the bride.

Mrs. Edward Moore of Lewes, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Mr. Moore assisted Sgt. Roth as best man.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Revell of the Lewes Methodist church.

After a reception the couple left for Detroit. Sgt. Roth is on a 30-day furlough and will return to Camp Meade, August 22 for orders. He has been in the armed forces since March 15, 1943, served nine months overseas in E. T. A. in Electronics and Ballistics Unit.

The bride and groom met at the University of Maryland, when Sgt. Roth was taking army special training course. Mrs. Roth was graduated June 27, receiving her degree in Social Science.

Mishler-Tobias

A very pretty double-ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Harold Reese in the candlelights of the Baptist church at Williamston, uniting in wedlock Doris Tobias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tobias, Alto, and S. 2/c Carl Mishler, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mishler of Charlotte, Thursday evening, August 2. The immediate families of both bride and groom were present.

The bride was dressed in mint-green with white accessories with a corsage of red roses and sweet-peas. The couple was attended by Mrs. Paul Tobias, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a lime color dress with white accessories, with a corsage of roses, and John Mishler, brother of the bridegroom, as best man.

Their honeymoon is being spent at some pretty lake, the whereabouts of which is unknown to their many friends. The Bunker Hill, on which S. 2/c Mishler is stationed was in the Ujima campaign. The carrier was damaged by a Jap suicide plane about thirty miles from Tokyo, making it necessary to return to the states for repairs. The groom will return to his duties in about two weeks, and the bride will resume her work at Grand Rapids.

"YEAH, he's a promising young fighter," Jim Gray declared, propping himself on his left elbow on the rub-down table. "It was a good fight until I caught up with 'im in the seventh and planted this right on his chin."

"And what a right!" a reporter said. "Twenty-one straight knockouts!" exclaimed another reporter. "That brings your total up to a hundred forty-four, doesn't it?"

"No, this one makes a hundred forty-five knockouts in three hundred five fights," Jim said. Pop Foster, Jim's manager, roared into the dressing room and shoved his way through the group around Jim. "Sorry, Jim, I forgot this," Pop said, holding out a wrinkled telegram. "It came just before we left the hotel. Hope it's nothing serious."

Jim ripped open the envelope. He jumped up and darted across the room to his clothes, shouting, "My little boy's sick with pneumonia! I gotta get medicine to 'im quick. Get a plane, Pop. Hurry! Hurry!" Because a snowstorm surrounded the mountain range for which Jim was headed, no one wanted to fly him. Finally, he located an old friend who took him to a small town nestling in the foothills. On landing, Jim found that all modes
