8 Fire Calls In 7 Days

When the snow leaves the ground and the sunshine brings the spring atmosphere out, people get the urge to clean their yards and burn the excess rubbish around their houses that have collected during the winter months.

Volunteers of the Lowell Fire Department were kept busy since the paper came out answering 8 calls, six of which were grass fires.

On Wednesday, March 28, the department was called to the Squire Farm on Gullford Drive at 3:30 by Mrs. Terry Halladay to a grass fire.

At 10:15 Thursday morning they extinguished a grass fire at 12286 38th Street, owned by Charles Justice. At 5:15 that same afternoon, they were called to 1228 Biggs Street, the Clarence Weicks residence, for a grass fire.

The fire whistle remained silent Friday and Saturday, but aroused the volunteers on Sunday at 12:45. The fire was at the Hollis Marsh home on North Division and was under control before the department arrived. Some damage was done to the exterior of the house. Police are investigating possible arson.

Monday, April 2, a grass fire at the Robert McEwen's home on Grand River Drive got out of control and the department was called at 4 o'clock. Later in the evening, at 8 p. m., the boiler doors on the furnace at the Congregational Church blew open causing the flame to be observed, and a report was turned in. No damage was done.

The fire department also answered a call at the Adam Post residence on old Grand River Drive at 1:30 on Tuesday to put out a grass fire and had returned to the fire barns and was backing the equipment in when the whistle blew again. The summons was from Lester Place of Route 2, Lowell, reporting a grass fire out of control.

Fire Chief Frank Baker, stated this week that he hoped people in the future would be more cautious when they burn rubbish and leaves. Most of the fire this week happened on extremely windy days—the wrong time to start a fire.

These calls are hard on the equipment and can be cured by people closely watching their fire after it is lite and having the proper equipment around in case the fire starts to spread.

Townsend Next Mayor?

Bill Jones who has been active in city government since 1956 when he became a member of the council, and has been president of the village from 1958 to 1960, and became the first mayor of the new city of Lowell, told the council he was sorry to leave the city council and would continue to be vitally interested in local government.

During his years in office, he has pushed to completion a $100,000 swimming pool. He was back of the move to become a city and instrumental in putting Lowell to the lead in the county in property appraisals at state equalized valuations, and installation of new street lighting.

Offers Program for L & P
Jones, in a sort of farewell speech at the council on Monday night, spoke of the many problems that have been solved in the past and his confidence in Lowell's ability to continue to forge ahead.

He pointed out that he had high hopes that the Light and Power plant could come forward now that Lowell is in a bind with the State Health Department over a new sewage disposal plant, and offer to help in paying off the bond issue that will be required to build this new facility. He injected that if the engineers' projections are anywhere near right, a small part of the earnings of the Light and Power could go a long way toward helping the Lowell taxpayers in financing this much needed facility.

At the Vergennes Township meeting the voters present were told that the township would complete the grading of Bailey Drive west of Parnell Ave. this year. They also were told that the Road Commission would complete the paving of Parnell Avenue in the township north of Vergennes Street.

RIGHTEOUSNESS EXALTETH A NATION: BUT SIN IS A REPROACH TO ANY PEOPLE

Proverbs 14:34

That which pertains to a nation also pertains to every city, town and hamlet. Righteousness begins when men and women turn from sin to Christ and bring up their children in the "fear of the Lord" which is "the beginning of knowledge." Proverbs 1:7a.

Camp Fire Girls coming events

The Wa han ka girls met at the home of Susan Dey this Tuesday afternoon at 3:30. We learned how to decorate and display eggs for making an Easter egg tree to be used as a center piece for our Easter dinner. We used paints, fancy pieces of rickrack and other appropriate decorations. We had fun. Nancy Doyle furnished the treat.

We are still talking about the delicious food that we had at our Dad-daughter banquet. We had 27 who ate at our individual table. Miss Helen Anderson of the Grand Rapids office was a guest at our table. She told us that she will be working at Camp Keewano near Hesperia this summer from June 24 through Aug. 13. It sounds like fun. Wish we all could go. Cindy Williams, Scribe

The Junior High Wi-Ca-Ka Camp fire girls finished their rank in Torch Bearer Saturday night. We went out to supper at the Show Boat Inn. Those attending were the following: Clara Barton, Helen DeHaan, Lorraine Cannon, Diana LaBine and leader Mrs. John DeHaan. After supper we went to the theater in Saranac.

On April 13, we will have another bowling match. Helen DeHaan, Scribe

Your Library

Every Library day new patrons are discovering the Lowell Library, at the corner of Main & Hudson, and express pleasure with the variety of fiction and non-fiction books available to them. Recently new book shelves and another table have been added to better accommodate the always welcome readers.

Tuesday, March 27, Mrs. Thurtell's morning kindergarten class spent a happy hour at the library, and Tuesday, April 3, her afternoon class will be guests there.

Many of the children are "graduates" of the pre-school story hour. The prime object of raising the fines, getting books back promptly so others can use them, is working out to the advantage of all concerned. A forgotten book in someone's home or school locker is of no use to the book collection, and often is just the book that is vitally needed by a patron.

Cooperation in this respect keeps the quality and quantity of available books at a high level.

Mrs. John A. Abraham spent Monday, April 2, at Kent County Library headquarters, attending a staff and branch librarians meeting. Mrs. Hugh Vander Veen, formerly Lowell Librarian, and now librarian at the East Grand Rapids branch, and H. Raymond Jones liaison officers for Kent County Library staff, also attended the meeting.

April Cancer Crusade Starts

An army of nearly 7000 volunteers will be on the job, starting Monday, in the April Cancer Crusade, it was announced this week by Carl M. Montgelas, general chairman of the Campaign which will be carried on throughout the county by the Kent County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

Goal was announced last week as $101,937 in the campaign to finance education and research in the war against cancer. Last year $104,869 was raised.

Montgelas reported that in Grand Rapids personal solicitation of large donors already is under way by the Special Gifts Division, headed by Philip W. Goodspeed.

The Downtown Division of which Wm. A. Hoffines is chairman, will be in charge of solicitation of office workers.

The big house-to-house canvass, "Lights On" Night, will take place Thursday evening, April 26. This event annually produces nearly 50 percent of the Unit's quota. This year Mrs. Robert C. Greening is chairman of "Lights On".

Mrs. R. D. Siegle of Alto, is chairman of the southern townships of the county, and Mrs. Paul M. Dunnebak of the northern half. Chairman Montgelas declared that the advances made to date in the American Cancer Society's campaign of education and research have encouraged the society to redouble its efforts to discover the cause of cancer and a cure for it. Death rate already has been reduced from one case out of seven to one out of three. It is the goal of the society to eliminate the disease entirely.

Mouse-eye view...of... people plugging for trouble

Overloaded circuits, insufficient outlets are sure signs of low housepower. That means your house has inadequate wiring... means trouble with electric washers, dryers, ranges, air conditioners, irons and other appliances. These electric servants can't perform as they normally should. And you suffer the added inconvenience of blown fuses when you use too many appliances at one time.

First step to take in resolving a low-housepower problem — call your electrical contractor. He can give you an accurate rewiring estimate and install plenty of circuits to help you live better electrically!
